

Saint George Biography

Aim: To give an account of someone's life using evidence.

Features of a Biography

- Introduction – introduce the person and summarise the main events of the person's life. Try to include a question to hook in the reader.
- Recount the significant events in the person's life in chronological order.
- Write about important influences in their life.
- Write about their feelings about different events in their life.
- Conclusion- write about how the person will be remembered.

Remember to:

- write in the past tense;
- write using the third person;
- use time adverbials to open sentences;
- include significant names and dates.

Introduction- Introduce Saint George, summarise the main events of his life and try to include a question to engage the reader.

Saint George is famous because _____

Paragraph 2- Write about significant events in time order. Try to include dates and names when possible.

Saint George was born _____

When he was 17, Saint George joined the Roman Army _____

People say that _____

Paragraph 3- Explain what happened to Saint George near the end of his life and how he died.

At that time, _____

Saint George died _____

Conclusion- Explain how people remember him and how we celebrate his life today.

People remember him _____

Saint George Biography

Aim: To give an account of someone's life using evidence.

Features of a Biography

- Introduction – introduce the person and summarise the main events of the person's life. Try to include a question to hook in the reader.
- Recount the significant events in the person's life in chronological order.
- Write about important influences in their life.
- Write about their feelings about different events in their life.
- Conclusion- write about how the person will be remembered.

Remember to:

- write in the past tense;
- write using the third person;
- use time adverbials to open sentences;
- include significant names and dates.

Introduction- Introduce Saint George and include a rhetorical question to hook in the reader.

Paragraph 2- Write about his early life.

Paragraph 3- Write about significant events in his life in chronological order.

Paragraph 4- Write about the end of Saint George's life.

Conclusion- Write about Saint George's legacy.
