Week 29 Newsletter

Tuesday 2nd May 2023

Dear families,

Welcome to our latest newsletter. It is a very short one this week!

It is a very special (yet short) week this week as we build up to the Coronation next weekend. We will be asking the children to dress down (or up!) in red, white and/or blue and we will have some special learning and events. There is no donation and please don't wear fancy dress. We want to say a big well done to the Y3/4 Taekwondo group who had a taste of another exciting sporting opportunity in our wonderful community. Last week was incredibly busy as we worked together as staff, leaders and Governors to review our progress and set goals for the future. It was an incredibly positive experience to review our work so far. We have worked through our new budget and set what we believe is the best possible structure for our pupils with the funds that we have available. We will finalise one or two elements of this plan and update you further very soon! Lastly, I wanted to say thank you for protecting our staff wellbeing and using the new methods of communication in school via the school office telephone line or email office@springvaleprimary.org. School continues to run smoothly and I can be assured that staff have their wellbeing protected in the evenings and weekends too.

Thank you for your input to the consultation on cost-of-living related school fees too. We have read through the comments and even though they are very positive about the work we do to keep costs fair there are some brilliant ideas to help us moving forward! We will analyse the comments further and build in to our development work in the coming weeks and months.

Have a wonderful, if slightly short, week. A reminder too that we are closed next Monday for the Coronation Bank Holiday and we re-open on Tuesday 9th May when the Y6 SATS will start.

Regards, Mr L McClure, Headteacher
